

ANXIETY FOR VESSELS THE STORM TRACK

Great Damage to Shipping By the Late Wild Hurricane.

SHIPS COMING IN BADLY DAMAGED.

SOUTHERN WATERS STREWN WITH WRECKAGE.

Each Day Brings Further News of the Disastrous Work of the Wind That Swept the Southern Coast—Many Ships Run Ashore, and Several Are Missing and Believed to Be Lost Forever.

Philadelphia, Oct. 5.—News of the damage to shipping, due to the hurricane of September 26 and 27, which swept the southern coast, is now being received and shipping men anticipate the loss of much valuable property and the sacrifice of many lives when full particulars are brought to light.

Vessels come badly damaged and their captains report thrilling encounters with the elements.

Arriving vessels report the southern waters are strewn with wreckage of every description, indicative of many shipwrecks.

The greatest anxiety prevails for the safety of a number of vessels that are known to have been in the track of the storm.

Each Day Has Its Horrors.

Key West, Fla., Oct. 5.—Every day information reaches here from the keys of the loss of life in the recent hurricane.

September 28, three sailers drifted ashore on East Matamoras key. They were from the British bark Brandon, of Quebec, from Ship Island for Liverpool, with a cargo of timber, which ran ashore on Crook's key, and was wrecked on September 26 and was later captured.

There were 17 in all on board and these are the only ones accounted for.
The survivors, Chief Captain Woodford, the mate, the steward and another of the crew were drowned, as they were in the cabin when the ship upset.

reigns, particularly when the inmates

Vallejo, Cal., Oct. 5.—William Dixon's chestnut mare, Quirt, by Joe Hooker, today ran the two fastest half-mile heats on record. She won the first heat in 47 1/2 seconds and the second heat in 47 seconds.

siders. Bank's Daughter, the second Delight, the third favorite, won the third race, the fourth, beating the second choice and the favorite in a driving finish. Dr. Parke, on whom as high as 10 to 1 could be laid, shipped his head in front of Uno, the favorite, just under the wire in the last race. As they were turning into the stretch in the last race, Uno, who was carrying his rider, Kuhn, and kicking him. The jockey is not dangerously hurt. The Walk Over for Gentry.

Chillicothe, O., Oct. 5.—The close of the Driving Park company's meeting here was attended by about 3,000 people. A fix was scheduled to beat her own mark of 2:03 1/2, but the cold weather and wind were against her, and she only made the mile in 2:06 1/2, which, under the circumstances, was very good.

The free-for-all race seemed to be a walk over for John R. Entry, by taking it in three straight heats and setting a pace so hot in the first heat that the track record of 2:07, made by Vasar in the 2:10 pace on Tuesday, was reduced one second. The meeting has been very successful. The track record has been lowered twice and a world's record broken.

Portland Races Postponed.

Portland, Me., Oct. 5.—The track not being in condition the races to have taken place today were again postponed. They will be run off tomorrow if the Nelson and Mahon will go against their records.

At Jerome Park.

New York, Oct. 5.—The last meeting of the season in this was run today at Morris Park. Before a large crowd. The first event was the Albany stakes for 2-year-olds. Bright Phoebus was a top-heavy favorite. Taral got his mouth off well and then, standing him, did not let loose until within a half furlong of the finish, when he shot out and won as he pleased.

In the handicap, Horrippe opened a strong favorite, while few seemed to want to back Rubicon. The track was sticky. The lot got away well together, and Eric jumped at once into the lead.
He led them a merry clip up the hill, and then gave it up. Rubicon had been trailing in the meantime, but a quarter of a mile from home he went away fast and won as he pleased.

LADIES ARE PAROIS TO THE LAKESIDE CORE

Whole Country Went Wild Over Prospect of War With China.

SYMPATHY OF ALL SAVE THE ENGLISH.

GREAT BRITAIN AND RUSSIA MAY TAKE A HAND.

San Francisco, Oct. 5.—Fumihira Sivas, a Japanese artist, had been spending several months in the interior when the government issued a call for troops to be sent to Korea.

"At the place where I was stopping the troops had to march twenty miles to Hiroshima," he said, "from which place they were to be conveyed in vessels to Korea. There were no sad leave-takings. Poor farmers, too poor to pay their way, ran after the army twenty miles to cheer them on to victory. The whole country went wild at the prospect of war, and danger to life and limb was the last thing that the father and mother thought of in bidding their sons good-bye."

"Mothers are not praying in Japan today that their sons may be spared.
They rather wish that they were in great numbers and pray, but their prayers are offered up that Japan may win."

"Japan has the sympathy of the entire foreign population of the Orient, except the English. English sentiment, as far as I have been able to observe, is with the Chinese. In Yokohama, a few weeks ago, a wealthy English merchant had a despatch from a French resident that the first important land engagement would result in a victory for the Chinese. He bet $20,000 against $4,000 in odds were made on the Japanese. The English gentleman lost his $20,000."

"I had seen the American papers have been indulging a great deal of speculation on the probable fate of the thousands of Chinese soldiers who were made captives at that battle. Let me tell you that they were treated most humanely. That is the outland policy of the Japanese government. They are prisoners of war, but they will not be submitted to
